

LaJuana S. Wilcher

Partner

English Lucas Priest & Owsley, LLP

Bowling Green, KY

LaJuana Wilcher has been EPA's Assistant Administrator for Water, Secretary of Kentucky's Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet, a trial lawyer, outside Counsel for NACWA and other major water associations in litigation, legislative and strategic matters, a law professor, and attorney for wastewater utilities and some of the nation's largest corporations. In her spare time she has been a sailor, caver and horsewoman.

After working 19 years in DC, Ms. Wilcher practices law from her home state of Kentucky, where her depth and breadth of experience help her provide advice and assistance to clients throughout the country. She also breeds and races thoroughbreds.

Samantha Propp

Partner

English Lucas Priest & Owsley, LLP

Bowling Green, KY

After living in Philadelphia, San Francisco, Tucson, and Portland, Oregon, Long Island native Samantha Propp has settled in Bowling Green, Kentucky, where she is an environmental law partner at English Lucas Priest & Owsley (ELPO). Since joining ELPO, she has worked on environmental matters involving the Clean Water Act, the Clean Air Act, Superfund and RCRA. She represents clients on environmental permitting, enforcement and appeals.

In addition to practicing law and raising two energetic preschool-aged boys, Samantha is happy to offer free travel tips.

Brent Fewell

Partner

Troutman Sanders LLP

Washington, DC

Brent Fewell is a partner in the Washington DC office of Troutman Sanders. Prior to Troutman, Brent served as the Sr. Vice President and chief environmental compliance officer for United Water. As well, from 2004-2007, Mr. Fewell served as the Principal Deputy Assistant Administrator in EPA's Office of Water where he was responsible for overseeing all facets of the federal drinking water and surface water programs.

Thomas Mascia

Associate

Troutman Sanders LLP

Richmond, VA

T.J. Mascia is an associate in the Richmond office of Troutman Sanders. His practice focuses on a broad range of environmental issues, with emphasis on regulatory counseling, compliance strategy, permitting and enforcement defense, and also includes a specific focus on legal matters related to wetlands and species mitigation banking, water quality trading and conservation easements.

Brooks M. Smith

Partner

Hunton & Williams LLP

Richmond, VA

Brooks Smith is a partner in the Richmond office of Troutman Sanders, and former co-chair of the environmental practice at Hunton & Williams. He is deeply involved in matters arising under the Clean Water Act, including market-based approaches to water quality restoration. He has been a proud member of the NACWA family for a number of years, and has worked with the Association and its members on a number of bellwether water proceedings.