

Jeffrey Eger
Executive Director
Water Environment Federation
Alexandria, VA

Jeff Eger is the Executive Director of the Water Environment Federation (WEF), an international organization of water quality professionals headquartered in Alexandria, Va. Prior to joining WEF in January 2011, he held the position of Executive Director of Sanitation District 1 (SD1) in Fort Wright, Ky. SD1 is the second largest public sewer utility in Kentucky and maintains $1 billion in physical assets.

In addition, Mr. Eger has vast experience in working with organizations active on the regional and national levels. He is a past chairman of the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (the water pollution control agency for the Ohio River and its tributaries) and past chair of the Wet Weather Partnership, a national organization dedicated to seeking environmentally responsible solutions to urban wet weather issues.

Mr. Eger earned a Communications degree from Northern Kentucky University and is the recipient of numerous honors and awards, including: Outstanding Young Leader Award, Kentucky Jaycees; Northern Kentucky Chamber of Commerce Walter Pieschel Award (2004); Honored Member, U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce; honored by Girl Scouts of America and National Leadership Academy for community service.