

Corey Friedman

Director, Credit Market Services – US Public Finance Infrastructure
Standard and Poor's
Chicago, IL

Based in Chicago, Corey Friedman is a Director in the U.S. Public Finance Infrastructure Department. He has been with Standard & Poor's since 2001, having covered a wide variety of state and local credits in the Midwest and various other credits across the United States. Since 2010, he has been covering primarily U.S. Infrastructure credits across the country, which include water, sewer, solid waste, and airport credits. He serves as a lead analyst on several large utility systems located in the Midwest, West, and Mountain regions.

Prior to joining Standard & Poor's, Mr. Friedman worked as a budget analyst at Allstate Insurance Company, working on internal cost containment strategies and initiatives. He is a member of the National Federation of Municipal Analysts and its local affiliate the Chicago Municipal Analyst Society. He is also on the board of several non-profit organizations located in Chicago.

Mr. Friedman holds a BA in Finance and Economics from the University of Illinois and a MBA from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business with concentrations in organizational behavior and management and international business.