

Neal Sweeney

Partner

Kilpatrick Townsend, LLP

Atlanta, GA

Neal Sweeney is a partner in the Construction & Infrastructure Projects Group of Kilpatrick Townsend, LLP. He has practiced for 31 years exclusively in the area of construction law, with a further concentration in large infrastructure projects. Mr. Sweeney has extensive experience the design and construction of wastewater treatment facilities and disputes arising from such projects, including representation of the City of Atlanta, the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, and the Milwaukee Metropolitan Sewerage District.

Mr. Sweeney has written extensively on construction law, Government contracts and related topics. He has contributed as a co-author to numerous books and has edited over 20 books on construction law, including the annual Construction Law Update (Aspen) which he has edited since 1992, and Common Sense Contracting (Wiley, 1997). He also regularly contributes articles to periodicals including Water Environment and Technology, the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) Management Journal, Development, and Constructor magazines. Mr. Sweeney is a regular lecturer on construction law for a variety of trade and bar organizations and educational institutions, including the Water Environment Federation (WEF), ASCE, Design-Build Institute of America, American Council of Engineering Companies, Stanford University, and Georgia Tech.

Mr. Sweeney received his law degree, cum laude, from George Washington University and his undergraduate degree, magna cum laud, from Rutgers University. He has been listed in Chambers USA: America's Leading Business Lawyers for Construction Law as well as in The Best Lawyers in America® since 2004. He is the Immediate Past President of the Southeast Chapter of the Design-Build Institute of America.