

Sandra Ralston

Vice President
ARCADIS U.S., Inc.
Charleston, SC

Sandra Ralston is 2013-2014 President of the Water Environment Federation (WEF), an international organization of water quality professionals headquartered in Alexandria, Va. Sandra is currently an Associate Vice President with ARCADIS in Charleston, S.C. She also participates as a Strategic Partner for the International City/County Managers Association.

A WEF member since 1989, Ms. Ralston served as the chair of the WEF Government Affairs Committee from 2005- 2008, with particular focus on increasing outreach to Member Association government affairs committees, conducting the national discussion of what the next 35 years of the Clean Water Act should be, and engaging a wider community of stakeholders to talk about the future of wet weather policy. She was a member of the Committee Leadership Council development working group and served as Chair of the Stakeholder Focus Group in 2007. She also served on the planning committee for the Utility Management Conference.

Also a member of the Water Environment Association of South Carolina and the Indiana Water Environment Association (IWEA), Ms. Ralston was IWEA President from 2002-2003, served as chair of IWEA's annual conference program, and represented IWEA at annual WEFMAX meetings. She is also a member of the Water Environment Association of South Carolina and served as a past editor of its quarterly Journal.

She received a BA from the University of Colorado and an MBA from George Washington University.
